

Occoneetchee State Park

Native American Heritage Festival

(1992-2009)

Clarksville, Virginia

Saturday, May 9, 2009

Gates Open 10:00 AM

Grand Entry 12 Noon

Share Our Heritage!

Spend the day at beautiful Occoneetchee State Park and experience the song and dance celebration of Native American Dancers and Drums. Enjoy freshly prepared Native foods, shop with craft vendors and visit the park Native American museum.

FEATURING

M.C.: Marvin J Burnette (Lakota Sioux)

Host Drum: Red Earth Singers (Haliwa Saponi)

CO-Host Drum: Red Oak Singers (Intertribal)

Head Man Dancer: Keith Anderson (Cherokee/Catawba)

Head Lady Dancer: Debora Moore (Pamunkey)

Arena Director: Jay Kays

Special Guests: Jeff Ball Band Lee Chichester vFa

Admission Fee: Adults $5.00 children 3-12 and Seniors 62+ $3.00

BRING YOUR LAWN CHAIRS

NO PETS PLEASE

SPONSORED BY:

Virginia Division of State Parks

Occoneetchee State Park

Occoneetchee State Park named for Native Americans who lived in the area for hundreds of years. The park is on John H. Kerr Reservoir, better known locally as Buggs Island Lake. The Native American Heritage Festival is an annual event that captures the culture and history of Native American people.

Occoneetchee State Park is located 1.5 miles east of Clarksville on US Route 58.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT:

Occoneetchee State Park - 434-374-2210

